

GUIDED DEMO · EVENT ORGANISERS

See exactly how ProConnect runs your event

Four steps, start to finish: fill the room, run the day in person or online, and keep the connections alive long after everyone has gone home. Nothing to install — you and your attendees work from a browser.

- | | |
|---------------------|--|
| 1 Before | Create the event, publish a registration page, invite your list, work the checklist. |
| 2 Virtual | Google Meet or the built-in room, with full host moderation. |
| 3 On the day | QR check-in, live arrivals, badges, raffle draw. |
| 4 After | Insights, thank-you emails, lasting connections, invoices. |

Before — set up and fill the room

An event takes a couple of minutes to create. From there you get a public registration page, invite tracking and a checklist that keeps the run-up honest.

- Create the event: name, date, venue, capacity, in person or virtual.
- Switch on a public event page with its own shareable link and registration form.
- Already selling on Eventbrite? Keep it. Bring your list into ProConnect for the networking layer.
- Send invites and see who opened, who registered and who still needs a nudge.
- The Event Checklist tracks the fiddly parts — prizes, badges, page live, invites sent.

Virtual and hybrid — run it wherever people are

Virtual events are first class, not an afterthought. Use the tools your team already lives in, or the built-in room.

- Connect Google Meet and Google Calendar so rooms and invites come from your normal workflow.
- Or run the built-in ProConnect room — no downloads for attendees, just a link.
- Host moderation: mute or unmute everyone, remove a disruptive guest, promote a co-host.
- Attendees join under their real profile, so you know who is actually in the room.
- Virtual guests check in too, so they count for attendance and can enter the raffle.

On the day — the door, the badges, the moment

Everything the door team and the host need on one screen, updating live as people arrive.

- QR check-in from any phone — no scanner hardware, no printed list.
- A live dashboard showing arrivals in real time, so you know when to start.
- Badges for attendees, speakers and VIPs with your own palettes, plus a printable view.
- Run the raffle from the stage: entries are everyone checked in, in the room or online.
- Attendees see who else is there and connect on the spot instead of swapping cards.

CONNECTIONS

Made in the room, kept afterwards

After — the part most tools drop

When the room empties, the value usually evaporates. This is where ProConnect earns its place.

- Attendance and registration numbers, plus the cohort mix of who actually turned up.
- Thank-you emails go out automatically when the event ends.
- Attendees keep the connections they made — the networking continues in their account.
- Member directory with LinkedIn profiles for allow-listed organiser workspaces.
- Invoices and plan management live in the same dashboard.

No app store download — but yes, they build a profile

Everything works in a normal browser on a phone or laptop. Attendees do create a ProConnect account and a short profile when they register — that profile is what makes the connections, the check-in and the directory work.

- 1 Open your event link from an email, LinkedIn post or QR code.
- 2 Register and build a short profile — role, company, what they want.
- 3 See who else is coming and start conversations before the doors open.
- 4 Check in on arrival by phone, then connect with anyone they meet.

Does it work with Eventbrite?

Yes. Keep Eventbrite for ticketing; ProConnect adds profiles, check-in, badges, the raffle and the connections that outlast the night.
